PurpleLetter.org is a non-partisan platform that empowers people interested in the development of America to contribute to its direction. We accomplish this by providing a unique first-class letter writing service that quickly connects the collective voice of the people directly with elected officials and relevant public, private, and media representatives. From the resulting letters of “we the people”, PurpleLetter.org also serves as an industry-first resource for our public leaders, scholars, and engaged individuals to gain an understanding of the important and relevant issues in American society today.
